Institute for Counselor Development

For counselor-interns who are working toward licensure, few people can be more influential than their certified clinical supervisor. The role of the supervisor is varied: coach, educator, motivator, advisor, and confidante. The Institute for Counselor Development provides the training required to meet the Texas supervision requirements for the LPC.

The Institute for Counselor Development (ICD) LPC Supervisor Training curriculum is designed to meet the 40-hour training requirement for professionals seeking qualification as an LPC Supervisor by the State of Texas. Participants will receive 40 CEU hours, including 12 hours of Ethics. Instruction includes lecture, small group work, videotaping supervision sessions and subsequent evaluation, role play, and practical applications of current research and techniques.

Our curriculum is taught in two 20-hour segments. The Friday and Saturday sessions begin at 8:00 am and end at 5:00 pm, with an hour off for lunch on your own. The 4-hour Sunday session begins at 9:00 am and ends at 1:00 pm.
